2. CITATIONS AND EXPLANATIONS

Claims 1-10 lack novelty under PCT Article 33(2) as being anticipated by Rieder.

Rieder, U.S. Patent 4,172,802, teaches aqueous metal working fluids exhibiting high lubricity and high stability comprising water and an acid terminated diester of a secondary diol (abstract). There may be added to the metal working composition various additives such as corrosion inhibitors, biocides, fungicides, bacteriocides, surfactants, extreme pressure agents and antioxidants well known in the art in conventional amounts (column 8, lines 9-14). The metal working composition may have therein a concentration of the carboxylic acid terminated diester or the organic salt or alkali salt thereof over a wide range, preferably from 0.10% to 20% more preferably 0.03% to 5% by weight of the weight of water plus the weight of carboxylic acid group terminated diester or organic amine or alkali metal salt thereof (column 8, lines 15-22). In Example 22, column 11 of Rieder, a composition containing 15 gms phthalate ester, 15 gms triethanol amine and 470 gms water is disclosed.

Claims 1-10 meet the criteria set out in PCT Article 33(4), and thus have industrial applicability because the subject matter claimed can be made or used in industry.
